

AGSD-UK Chief Executive Officer

- Are you a Senior Manager looking for a rewarding move within the charity sector?
- Would you thrive on supporting the ongoing success of a small but ambitious charity?
- Do you care about making a difference and leaving a positive legacy?

Here at AGSD-UK, we are looking to recruit a Chief Executive Officer to strategically and operationally manage all aspects of our important service. This new position is born out of our strategic growth plan to enhance our reach and impact.

AGSD-UK is a charity supporting those affected by Glycogen Storage Disease (GSD). Since 1986, we have provided vital support UK-wide to sufferers and their families. Since 2010, we have further established ourselves as a crucial hub for information, networking, conferencing, training and events.

With a flexible location, this varied, rewarding role will be a fundamental addition to our small but dedicated team. Our growing national and international reputation makes this a compelling position for the right individual. The path is clear for a dynamic individual to head up an exciting development phase in our history.

The ideal candidate shall come with proven senior administrative, leadership and management ability, ideally honed within the charitable and / or health sectors.

With a specific track-record in the areas of strategic planning and organisational development, applicants shall approach their work with tenacity, passion and interpersonal flair.

A visionary and strong all-rounder, our perfect match shall drive excellence in the areas of planning, service delivery, fundraising, financial management, personnel / trustee management and PR.

If you feel you meet our requirements and could add new value to our work then please reach out. A competitive package and excellent career opportunity await the right individual.
